

Earn Extra Money Become an Introducer

Are you an active or retired railway employee with good links with other railway people?

If so, this could be the opportunity for you! Your flexible, spare time role will be to raise interest in the Railway Friendly Society and its products among your local railway community. You will be paid a commission for each new member signed up following your introduction.

The Society was established in 1903 and is run by railway people for railway people. We are a mutual society run purely for the benefit of members. We provide protection insurance plans exclusively for railway workers and their families and we are about to launch a new product and membership recruitment campaign.
