

ASLEF's Response to the Transport for London Consultation on the Bakerloo
Line Extension

The Associated Society of Locomotive Engineers and Firemen (ASLEF) is the UK's largest train driver's union representing more than 20,000 members in train operating companies and freight companies as well as London Underground and light rail systems. ASLEF has over 2000 members on London Underground.

ASLEF at this point is not able to give any support for any specific option without having more detail and knowledge of how it will affect current National Rail services.

ASLEF will of course welcome any additional investment in rail. But any extra work or capacity must supplement current infrastructure and services. Not replace them.

The union looks forward to more detailed propositions in order to be able to give its view on this matter.
